The European Parliament Election 2024 is approaching. Which role does Europe play in your life? Probably quite a bit, even if it's not always obvious in everyday life. One thing is certain: It's worth getting involved for the European idea! And this is possible both in Bochum and locally with our European neighbors!

„AbentEUer Europa“ – Information, exchange, and opportunity to vote (11 am - 2 pm, free entry)

Get information from local institutions and initiatives about their offers and activities for Europe. At booths of the Bochum universities, you can receive information about study abroad opportunities within the EU and their financing options. Represented are, among others, meet!- Mercator Europa Tour, Landesspracheninstitut, International Office of RUB, International Office of THGA, and many more. Additionally, you can participate in the European Parliament election and cast your vote right on the spot at the mobile polling station of the City of Bochum, even as an EU student abroad (with ID card or passport).

Workshop: Young people from Bochum engage in discussion with the initiative Ruhrpott für Europa about Europe's role in the Ruhr area (1 pm - 2 pm, with registration, free entry)

How much of Europe is present in the Ruhr area? Ruhrpott für Europa (RfE) is an initiative that aims to mobilize and empower young people in the Ruhr area to actively shape the future of Europe and its politics. In the workshop, you will engage in conversation with two RfE trainers and discuss current issues and challenges facing the EU and Europe. Additionally, you will learn how you can take active steps to shape the future of Europe, and thus your own future! Please register via email by May 3rd to Sherin El Safty (selsafty@bochum.de).
